SONG & DANCE CERTIFICATE

Jonasz Kofta sang:

*Śpiewać każdy może
Trochę lepiej lub trochę gorzej
Ale nie o to chodzi
Jak co komu wychodzi
Czasami człowiek musi
Inaczej się udusi
Uu*

*Anyone can sing along
Some sing weak while others strong
But it's never been about
How our singing then turns out
Sing before it is too late
Your heart out
Else suffocate!*

All human texts begin with music – writing is converting the tiniest sounds (a, b, c, etc...) into pictograms into matrixes of meaning great and small...
How on Earth are we then to be any good at communicating what we think & feel about our place in this incredibly complex and wondrous universe if we do not know how to use our voices properly?

Frederic Chopin told all his piano students to go to the opera and listen to the great singers of the day:

"If you can't sing, you can't play the piano,"

Elvis Presley said:

*"I've never had a singing lesson in my life.
No music lesson of any kind, in fact.
I just started singing when I was a little kid...
I've been doing it ever since.... If I can't move, I can't sing!"*

Every time we breathe out, we make a choice – go silently about the business of being alive on the most amazing planet in the whole wide universe, or make a joyful noise to let Mother Nature know how amazing it feels to be alive.
